"Ally!" said old Sally sharply, and the chair came to an abrupt standstill. "In the name of heaven, how can they let him out?" Mrs. Rodney's knowledge of the law was of the vaguest, and, if incarceration would keep a prisoner out of more grievous trouble, she could not understand giving him his freedom. To her the case was analogous to releasing a child from the dross of a corner and turning him loose to play with matches. "How can they let him out?" she repeated, the still rocking chair conveying the impersonal dignity of the pulpit or the justice seat. "I ain't heard tell of so pearty a couple as the jail an' Jim in years."

The meaning that she put into her words belied their harsh face value. With Jim in jail her mind was comparatively at rest about him. She knew he had been branding other men's cattle since the destruction of his sheep, and she knew the fate of cattle thieves and that Jim would be no exception to the rule. With her purely instinctive maternity, she had been fond of Jim. He had been one more boy to mother. She harbored no ill feeling toward him that he was not her own. Moreover, she wanted no gallows tree intermingled with the annals of her family. It suited her convenience at this particular time that Jim should stay in jail. That he had been given his freedom loosed the vials of her condemnation on the incompetents that released him.

"I low they wuz grudin' him the mouthful they fed to him, that they ack so outlandishly plumb loosed as to turn a man out to get himself hanged. An' Jim never wuz a hearty eater. He never seemed to relish his food, even when he wuz a growin' kid."

"I mind Jim when he first kem to us," she said, more to herself than to Endora, who sat at her feet. The impending tragedy in the family had robbed her of all the joy in her suitors. They sat on a bench on the opposite side of the house, divided by the very nature of their interests, yet companions in misery.

"Ho wuz secker four, an' yet he had never been broke of the habit of suckin' his thumb. Ef he'd been my child I'd larned it out'n him before he'd a seen two, but seckin' he was aged for an infant havin' such practices I tried to shame him out'n it, but, Lord-a-massy men folks is hard to shame even at four. I kissed him like a grander every time I sech him do it. Now, I'd a knowed better—I'd a sewed it up in a pepper rag."

"What's suckin' his thumb as an infant got to do with his gettin' lynched now?" demanded Endora with the skepticism of the second generation. "Wait till you uns has children of your own," sniffed her mother from the assured position of maternal experience, "an' see the infant that's allowed to suck his thumb has the makin' in him of a felon or a unfornit."

She rocked a slow accompaniment to her dismal prophecy. Endora's eyes, big with wonder, were fixed on the crouching flank of a distant mountain. Her mother broke the silence. Not often did they speak thus intimately. Old Sally belonged to that class of mothers who feel a pride in their reticent dealings with their daughters and who consider the management of all affairs of the heart gourd. Don't seem to have drawn all the growth comin' to her yet."

"In roundin' up the pints of my gov'ment, Miss Rodney, you don't want to forget that green gourds and green grapes is mighty apt to belong to the sour family, when they hangs beyant your reach."

"Ally!" grimaced old Sally. "It's tofable far to send east for green fruit. We can take our own pop'mint." The prospective advent of a governess in the Yellett family—moreover, one from that mysterious corner of culture, the east—had not only rent the neighborhood with bitter factions, but had submitted the Yelletts to the reproach of ostentation. In those days there were no schools in that portion of the Wind river country where the Yelletts grazed their flocks and herds. Parents anxious to obtain "educational advantages"—that was the term, irrespective of the age of the student or the school he attended—sent them often with parental blindness as to the equivocal nature of the blessing thus conferred to visit friends in the neighboring towns while they "got their education," or they went uneducated, or they picked up such crumbs of knowledge as fell from the scant parental board, but never, up to the present moment, had any one flown into the face of neighborly precedent except sturdy Sarah Yellett.

Old Sally, in her eagerness to convey that she was in no degree impressed with the pedagogical importation, like many another belligerent, lost the first round of the battle through an excess of personal feeling, but, though down, Sally was by no means out, and after a brief session with the snuff brush she returned to the field prepared to maintain that the Yellett children, for all their pampering in the matter of having a governess imported for their benefit, were no better off than her own brood, who had taken the learning the gods provided.

"Too bad, Miz Yellett, that you uns had to hire that gov'ment without lookin' over her p'int. I've ben takin' her in durin' supper, an' she'll never be able to thrash 'em past Clem. She might be able to thrash Clem if she got plumb mad. These wery slim wimmin is terrible wry an' active at such times, but she'll never be able to thrash beyant her." And, having injected the vitriolic drop in her neighbor's cup of happiness, old Sally struck a gait on her chair which was the equivalent of a gallop.

"I reckon I can thrash my own children when it's needed without gettin' in help from the east, or hereabouts either, for that matter. If other folks would only take out their public spirited reformin' tendencies on their own families there'd be a heap less lynchin' likely to happen round the country in the course of the next ten years."

FACTIONAL DIFFERENCES

A Hot Time Promised in Interstate Commerce Law Convention.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Police may be necessary to prevent a clash between the two factions of delegates to the interstate commerce law convention which began a two days' session in Steinway hall today. Officers of the organization assert that the railroads have brought hundreds of delegates to Chicago from all parts of the country for the purpose of packing the convention and preventing an endorsement of President Roosevelt's plan of governmental regulation of freight rates by increasing the power of the interstate commerce commission.

The executive committee of the interstate commerce law association met to arrange the preliminaries for the meeting, and after much debate it was decided that it would be unfair to the business interests of the country who are unaware of the attempt which the members of the committee declare will be made to pack the convention to allow any delegates to participate in a convention with the purposes of which they are manifestly at variance.

Judge Cowan of Fort Worth, chairman of the executive committee declared: "It is not the intention to shut off or curtail the free discussion of all questions as to the best method of securing legislation in accord with the president's recommendations, but those who are not in favor of such legislation have as a matter of course the great American privilege of hiring a hall and holding a meeting of their own. We do not propose to allow the convention to be packed or stamped by men who we know are working in the interests of the railroads and against the very purpose of the convention. It is the boast of the henchmen of the railroads here that they will capture the convention. But I do not believe that they will be able to do anything of the kind, and in my opinion it would be most injudicious for them to attempt it."

D. M. Parry, president of the National Manufacturers' association, who is leading the opposing faction, said: "This convention will be composed of fair-minded and conservative business men from all parts of the country who are regularly appointed under the invitation and the call for the convention. Many of them are opposed to the proposed remedy of President Roosevelt for the abatement of the rate evil, and they have a right to be heard. They will insist upon being admitted to the convention and expressing their views. We want free speech and a fair discussion of the question on the floor of the convention without the application of gag-rule."

Feeling is running high and both sides are outspoken in their determination to control the convention, and unless somebody's action is weaker than his words there will be a warm time in Steinway hall before an organization is effected.

THE SEARCH LIGHT

Will Be Turned on the Mutual's Affairs by Its Own Trustees.

THEY WANT TO KNOW

Committee of Trustees Is Appointed to Look Into the Discredited Condition of Big Corporation.

President McCurdy Takes the Initiative and Brings the Matter Before the Board.

New York, Oct. 26.—More startling than the testimony before the legislative committee investigating the methods of insurance companies is the announcement by President Richard A. McCurdy of the Mutual Life Insurance company that a committee of the board of trustees of his company has been appointed to investigate the company and its methods. The members of the committee are: William H. Truesdale, Edgingham B. Morris and John W. Auchincloss, all prominent in the financial and business world. This action was taken at a meeting of the board yesterday and was the result of the insurance investigation. The matter was brought before the board by President McCurdy, and the committee will begin its work at once.

Still another interesting development in insurance matters was the statement issued by President Morton of the Equitable Life showing that the receipts of that company for the nine months of this year exceeded the expenditures by $16,723,197, an increase of over $500,000 compared with the same period last year. Receipts from premiums on policies for the third quarter this year were over $1,000,000 less than 1904. The expenses of the third quarter of this year were $239,913 less than last year, but for the first six months there was an increase over last year of $424,943.

A Rest in Proceedings.

After an entire day given over to the examination of Emory McClintock, actuary of the Mutual Life Insurance company and to the reading of column after column of figures, the legislative committee adjourned until Nov. 8, the day after the municipal elections. This extended adjournment was taken to enable the members of the committee who are candidates for re-election to the assembly to meet their constituents and conduct their campaigns.

The testimony of Mr. McClintock was of a technical nature. A number of his explanations brought out the fact that his ideas were in many respects at variance with the established methods of insurance companies and that of his own company in particular. This was especially apparent when the subject of deferred dividend policies was being inquired into. He said the word "deferred" was ambiguous and misleading, as it implied that dividends were accumulating or were paid at the end of each year. The company, he said, reserved the right when it wrote a policy to say what amounts should be apportioned at the end of each dividend period.

Mr. McClintock also said he was strongly in favor of limiting the amount of business a company should write. He said an attempt had been made to come to an agreement with the New York Life and the Equitable Life to limit the amount of business done by each company to one billion dollars. This was finally increased to $1,500,000,000, but James H. Hyde of the Equitable first declined to enter the agreement, and then George W. Perkins of the New York Life objected. Mr. Hyde's reason was his ambition to make the Equitable the largest insurance company in the world. Mr. McClintock thought that a law limiting the amount of business would be a good thing, and felt sure the Mutual Life would lend its support to such legislation.

These views are contrary to those expressed by President McCurdy of the Mutual when he was on the stand. Mr. McCurdy did not think that any company's business should be limited, even at the point where that business failed to be profitable to the company. Mr. McClintock also thought that a law compelling the declaration of dividends at stated periods would be unwise.

As to the method of computing the dividends that should be paid on a policy he said the apportionment was made up on his judgment. It was not a matter of accurate calculation, but was based on the experience of previous years. The interest earned by the company or the increase in the market valuation of the securities held by the company, Mr. McClintock said, were not taken into consideration in apportioning these dividends. He said that in 1903, when the dividends were reduced, the market value of the company's securities had decreased. In 1904, however, the securities rose in value so that $8,000,000, lost by the decrease the year before, were regained and a million in addition. The dividends were not increased for 1904, however, yet they were not out. He was still on the stand at adjournment.

THE STORM GATHERS

Russia in the Throes of Great Industrial Upheaval.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 26.—An encounter took place last evening between strikers and engine drivers who were preparing to take out trains. Revolver shots were exchanged and a number of persons were killed or wounded.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 26.—Confronted by a situation more crucial than any since the beginning of the political and social upheaval of Russia, and which shows no signs of amelioration, the emperor's ministers under the leadership of Count Witte, are in almost constant conferences in the hope of finding some way out of the crisis into which the revolutionists and the socialists have cast the country.

The general strike on the railroads is complete except in a few border provinces, and St. Petersburg, Moscow and other large cities are almost as closely beleaguered as if they were invested by besieging armies. At the same time the industrial strike has assumed large dimensions and the turbulent elements in several localities are offering open resistance to the troops.

Made Eighteen Hours.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—The special train of E. H. Harriman, upon which Miss Alice Roosevelt is a passenger, arrived in Chicago last night at 8:05 o'clock, 50 hours and 44 minutes actual running time since starting from Oakland, Cal., and started on its journey east ten minutes later. The train made the distance from Oakland to Chicago in just eighteen hours less than that required for the Overland Limited.

Gotham Owns Ferry Line.

New York, Oct. 26.—One of New York city's most conspicuous ventures in municipal ownership was inaugurated Wednesday when the new ferry line between the Battery and Staten Island was put into operation. It is owned and operated by the city, and its five splendid ferries, which are the largest in New York harbor, aggregating in value nearly $2,000,000.

Brakeman Caught by Train.

UNITED AT LAST

Blue and the Gray March Together at Little Rock.

IMPRESSIVE INCIDENT

Guard of Honor to the President a Conclaves Evidence of the End of Sectional Rancor.

In Giving Special Greeting to This Guard the President Declared It Did Him Good.

Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 26.—President Roosevelt spent several crowded hours in and around Little Rock yesterday, and his journey from Fort Logan H. Roots, on Big Rock, on the north side of the Arkansas river, to the city park in Little Rock was marked by enthusiastic demonstrations of welcome on the part of the thousands of people appearing on the streets for the occasion. While in Little Rock the president delivered two speeches, in one of which he denounced lynching and in doing so elicited hearty applause. After inspecting Fort Logan H. Roots, the president and his traveling companions were taken in carriages through the city of Argenta, where he was liberally cheered along the route. Crossing the river on the free bridge, the party proceeded through the heart of Little Rock on Main street. The president, standing in his carriage, was kept busy acknowledging the cordial greetings from the great throngs of people.

At the city park the crowd that gathered to participate in the formal welcome was conservatively estimated at 40,000. After the exercises there and the president's address the party was taken to the Albert Pike Scottish Rite consistory, where a luncheon was given to the president. The visitors then repaired to the special train in waiting at the Rock Island station to convey the party to Memphis.

An impressive incident followed the president's exit from the officers' quarters. The guard of honor, composed of twelve Union army veterans and twelve former Confederates, had met the presidential party and accompanied it to the army post. They rode in pairs, each former Confederate by the side of a Federal army veteran. As the president was being escorted to his carriage for the journey from Fort Logan H. Roots to the city, he left those accompanying him and walked to where the guard of honor stood. Each of the soldiers was given a handshake and a verbal greeting by the president, who had remarked on approaching the group: "Gentlemen, it does me good to see the blue and the gray riding together." He called each veteran "comrade."

Didn't Tarry at Memphis.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 26.—President Roosevelt and his party arrived here last night at 8:30 o'clock. The president's itinerary did not include a stop here longer than was necessary to switch his car to the Illinois Central tracks, the original program being that he would proceed at once to New Orleans. These plans were somewhat modified when a large crowd of citizens appeared at the Calhoun street depot and loudly cheered the president and called upon him for a speech. The president acknowledged these greetings and proceeded to a hastily improvised stand, from which he made a short address.

BATTLED WITH POLICE

Chicago College Boys Carry Things With a High Hand.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Twenty-five policemen and 200 students of the Chicago College of Dental Surgery engaged in a fierce fight yesterday afternoon, and before order had been restored fifteen of the students had been arrested. At one point during the fight the police were forced to fire shots over the heads of the students to scare the latter back.

The freshmen and junior classes of the institution met in their annual class rush and the battle became so desperate that a riot call was sent in to the two police stations in the vicinity. When the police arrived on the scene the battle between the students had been in progress for half an hour, and had blocked all the streets and wagon traffic in near-by streets. The battling students joined forces as soon as they saw the approach of the patrol wagons, and the bluecoats were pelted from all sides with stones and vegetables. After this state of affairs had been going on for some time and the police were getting decidedly the worst of the battle, the bluecoats drew their revolvers and fired several shots. This brought the students to a halt, and before they could collect themselves the police were upon them with their clubs, and fifteen of the students were arrested.

Waiting a Decision.

Mare Island, Cal., Oct. 26.—The court martial of Commander Young of the Bennington was brought to a close with the argument of Captain E. F. West for the prosecution. The court will meet in closed session later and when a finding shall have been reached the case of Ensign Charles G. Wade will be taken up.

ADVOCATES NEW SYSTEM

Governor Hanly Would Revise Law Relating to Public Funds.

Indianapolis, Oct. 26.—Before the Indiana Bankers' association in session here, Governor Hanly formally launched his crusade against the system of lending public funds by officeholders. He went even further than anticipated by advocating the establishment of a guarantee bank for banks of the state for the purpose of minimizing loss to depositors through failures. Governor Hanly's recommendations were made during an address of welcome. He strongly advocated the establishment of a state board of finance, whose duty would be to designate certain banks in Indianapolis as repositories of public funds from which the state might reap the benefit of interest at 2 per cent. He said that county commissioners could act as boards of finance for the counties under the same system he would provide for the state funds, and that similar measures could be adopted for handling the money that comes into the hands of the city, town and township officers. He dwelt at length on the temptation of public officers to misuse the funds entrusted to them. He declared that after the state board of finance designated the banks here in which the money should be deposited that the state officials should make daily settlements with the state treasurer, who should immediately turn over the amount to the designated banks. With this system in vogue the Sherrick failure would have been impossible, he argued.

Governor Hanly's address before the Indiana Bankers' association advocating a new law to regulate the handling of public funds, created a profound impression among the bankers and politicians. He declared that while there are economic reasons which are alone sufficient to warrant a change in the present system of lending funds, there are potent moral and civic reasons justifying a change. He mentioned the recent disclosures in this state relative to the use of public funds by officeholders, and declared that an efficient way to prevent graft is to remove the opportunity. He characterized the contests between the banking institutions in various communities for control of the offices in which the bulk of the public funds are deposited as demoralizing to the citizenship. He referred especially to the fight that has gone here in every campaign in recent years to control the county treasurer's office, which means the control of $1,000,000 or more for two year terms. He said these contests have done more to debauch the citizenship and corrupt the electors of this county than any other phase of civic life. Such a condition, he said, is intolerable and a constant danger to public welfare. In conclusion he made a very strong appeal for the establishment of a guarantee bank to protect depositors in smaller concerns.

The state meeting of the bankers has brought to town a number of candidates for places on the Republican state ticket. Three members of the association, by the way, are candidates themselves. They are Jonce Monahan of Orleans, Thomas B. Millikan of New Castle, and John Dyer of Hammond. All three are red-hot after the nomination for state treasurer and each is confident of winning. Dyer and Millikan were in the race three years ago when Nat Hill was nominated. They are here lining up as many of their associates as possible in their behalf. The race for treasurer promises to be one of the most interesting before the state convention.

FROM BIRTH TO OLD AGE

Life is a constant fight against the dangers of disease, and he holds his own the best who keeps his body and its functions in the best working trim. There are times in every life when Nature gratefully accepts a little aid. She does not want a whipping up for that is inevitably followed by depressing reaction. In most cases a tonic and alterative properly compounded will afford the required help by promoting digestion, assimilation and reconstruction of tissue and reducing waste of vital nerve forces.

It must not be an alcoholic stimulant—just a vegetable tonic. Meeting these needs and conditions Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been in successful use these forty years and has accumulated a record of cures unequalled in the history of medicine. It is composed of non-alcoholic glyceric extracts of Golden Seal root, Queen's root, Stone root, Black Cherry bark, Bloodroot and Mandrake root, and by special processes perfected by Dr. Pierce, in his own laboratory, so combined in the most exact proportions, and their medicinal properties preserved without the use of alcohol as to render it a safe and effective remedy for use in the family without consulting a doctor. Young or old can take it freely as needed, and now that its composition is published, there is no ground for prejudice against it as a patent medicine or secret medicine. It is neither.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good."

Dr. Pierce's Great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 51 stamps.

What the NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY Has Done and is Doing

The National Biscuit Company has brought the science of baking close to the point of perfection, practically revolutionizing the baking of biscuit, crackers and wafers.

It makes them better than they have ever been made before; it keeps them fresh in moisture proof packages, as they have never been kept before, and all this goodness it guarantees by placing a trade mark in red and white on each end of the package, so that even the toddler peeping eagerly over the counter's edge, may buy as safely as the thoughtful housewife.

If every woman in the land could actually know the high quality, the never-ending care, the infinite skill, the absolute cleanliness that is represented by every package bearing this trade mark of the National Biscuit Company, it is certain that there never would be another biscuit, cracker or wafer sold in a common paper bag.

That this happy consummation may come to pass, the National Biscuit Company will invite the ladies of this city to join them in pleasant entertainment and thus become acquainted in a really delightful way with the most delicious baking in the world.

The republican city ticket commends itself to the voters of this city. It is composed entirely of good and loyal citizens, all of whom are well known to our people. They are all honest and capable men and will serve the city faithfully and intelligently.

The Indianapolis News has for years stood steadfastly for the enforcement of all laws, and its vigorous editorials have done much to create and maintain in the state a healthy public sentiment for the support of the law. It is no wonder that the readers of that paper are astonished to find it approving Mayor Holtzman's system of rules under which immoral houses are not only permitted, but protected in the violation of the law.

The meetings at the Central Christian church each evening are well attended and the interest is excellent. The pastor, Rev. Harley Jackson, is laboring earnestly and his work is bringing good results.

Railway Accidents.

During the twelve months ending June 30, 886 persons were killed and 13,783 were injured as a result of accidents on railroad trains. This is a big increase over the year before. The property loss to the railroads was $2,410,671.

A NOVEL RECEPTION

In-er-seal Squadron Will Receive
Saturday Afternoon at Armory
Hall.

Since early this morning the New Lynn Hotel has been the scene of unusual activities. The In-er-seal Squadron of the National Biscuit Company, otherwise known as their reception and entertainment committee, composed of twelve young men, is quartered there for a three days' stay. The object of their visit will not be accomplished until Saturday afternoon, when they will give the ladies of Seymour an informal reception in Armory Hall, from two until five o'clock. This reception will be identical with similar receptions given in other cities which have aroused public interest to the point of a mild sensation. At Indianapolis where the Squadron gave eleven receptions a short time ago, over thirty thousand people attended these unique functions. A genuine informal reception, just like the swellest society function, is what the ladies who attend will find. The reception hall will be embellished with decorations, which are carried by the Squadron, as is also the equipment, complete in every detail, including the china, silver and linen used in the event.

The Opera House Orchestra has been engaged for the afternoon and excellent musical program has been arranged. Every lady in Seymour and vicinity is extended a most cordial invitation to be present and a pleasant as well as instructive afternoon is promised. The dainty refreshments to be served will be in charge of a special chef who travels with the Squadron.

Granted Franchise.

The town board of Scottsburg has granted a franchise to the Louisville & Indianapolis Traction Company for a right-of-way through that town. This privilege is granted over a street west of the Pennsylvania road. The company obligates itself to have the line complete and cars running within two years. This is the company that proposes to build from Louisville connecting with the Irwin line here.

How to Cure Corns and Bunions.

First, soak the corn or bunion in warm water to soften it; then pare it down as closely as possible without drawing blood and apply Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice daily, rubbing vigorously for five or ten minutes at each application. Success.

A Judicial Inquiry.

A well known traveling man who visits the drug trade says he has often heard druggists inquire of customers who asked for a cough medicine whether it was wanted for a child or for an adult, and if for a child they almost invariably recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is that they know there is no danger from it and that it always cures. There is not the least danger in giving it, and for coughs, colds and croup is unsurpassed. For sale by C. 20th Century Laurel Stove

GUARANTEED FOR FIVE YEARS

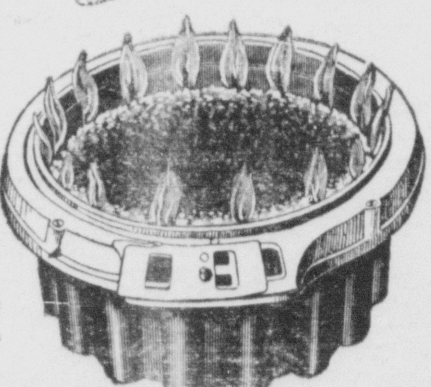

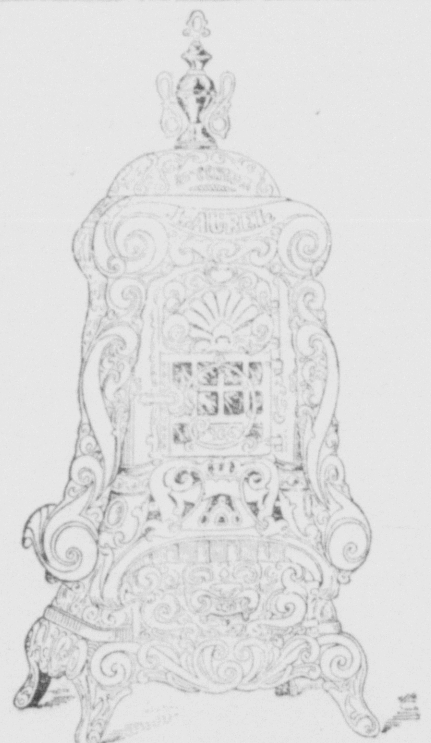

Why this Stove Makes Warm Floors

The hottest part of the fire being always against the fire pot as illustrated above, the greater part of the heat is radiated downward, heating the floor much more than a base burner does. Two or three tons of slack or soft coal will heat the ordinary house, giving as continuous and uniform heat as heretofore could only be obtained with a hard coal base burner.

We also carry a full line of all kinds of heater pipes lower than the lowest. We have a big stock and must sell them.

CONVENTION

And Election of Officers For Seymour District of the W. F. M. S.

The first missionary institute and twenty-eighth annual convention of Seymour district of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society is in session at the First Methodist church in this city today. The meetings were opened at 10:30 Wednesday morning and will continue until Friday night. There are thirty-seven delegates in attendance from Columbus, Hartsville, North Vernon, Charlestown, Sellersburg, Scottsburg, Jeffersonville and other points in the district.

The work of Wednesday morning consisted of devotional exercises led by Mrs. Dr. Jones, of New Albany and the appointment of the various committees, President Miss Bertrude A. Spangler, of Utica, being in chair. In the afternoon devotional exercises were in charge of Mrs. Anna Smith and during the meeting she rendered a beautiful solo. Miss Rebecca Daily, of Greensburg returned missionary from India, talked on Africa and "Christus Liberator," the study book for the new year. Miss Daily also gave a very interesting address in the evening, narrating some of her experiences in Calcutta.

The report of the recording secretary was given Wednesday afternoon and showed 462 members of auxiliaries, 104 of the Standard Bearers and 62 of the Kings Heralds, 42 new members having been added the past year. The amount raised by dues and mile box offerings was $1684.84, which was $184 more than their pledge of $1500 and was an increase of $202.70 over last year. This entire fund is used for the support of Miss Carrie Heaton, their missionary from this city at Sendai, Japan. This is a very gratifying report to the members and their earnest, untiring work is evident.

The election of officers, with the exception of the corresponding secretary was held this morning as follows: President, Miss Bertrude A. Spangler, of Utica; recording secretary, Mrs. O. S. Guernsey, of Seymour; treasurer, Mrs. Lena Scarce, of Jeffersonville; first vice president, Mrs. Gray, of Sellersburg; second vice president, Mrs. Dr. Hyde, of Columbus.

The delegates and the W. F. M. S. of this city were entertained at dinner in the church parlor at noon today. Mrs. Dr. Stevens returned missionary, is in attendance and will address the meeting this evening at 7:30. Every-body invited to attend.

Distinctively Different, In Every Way the Best

The Weekly Globe-Democrat, of St. Louis, covers a field peculiarly and exclusively its own.
It is issued twice every week. A big Semi-Weekly paper. Eight to ten large pages every Tuesday and Friday. One Dollar a year.
Nothing particularly different, you say, about that—there are other "Twice-a-Week" papers.

Yes, but the similarity ends there. No other paper is like the Globe-Democrat in any other respect. No other paper equals the Globe-Democrat in any respect.

An entirely unique feature of the Globe-Democrat, a feature which is highly praised by its readers, is its systematic method of preserving and presenting the Continuity of News.

The two papers each week, Tuesday and Friday, are carefully prepared with the view of giving the complete news of all the world for that week.

They are so combined in the make-up as to form continued and connected stories of the various important events, showing the developments from day to day and the final results.

Other weekly and twice-a-week papers, as a rule, print only a few telegrams of the day of issue.

The "Twice-a-Week" Globe-Democrat gives the telegrams of every day in the week more comprehensively than the average Daily, and of more value to the average reader.

Moreover, the "Twice-a-week" Globe-Democrat is not simply an echo of the Daily edition.

It is a separate and distinct publication, especially prepared to supply the requirements of people who want all the news of all the earth—and something more.

It presents the World's daily history in concise but complete form. It is of equal interest in all parts of the United States. It is invaluable alike to men and women, young and old.

It thoroughly provides for every member of the family. In high-grade literature it particularly excels. Its market reports are correct and complete in every detail.

Its departments devoted to "The Home," "The Farm and Garden," "The Family Circle," "The Sunday School," "Science and Industry," are each and all The Best of their kind and either one is more than worth the subscription price of the paper.

In politics it is strictly Republican, but it is above all a newspaper, and tells the truth without fear or favor. It has no equal or rival as a great National news and home journal.

Remember the price, only One Dollar per year—104 papers—less than one cent a copy. Postage prepaid.

You will make no mistake if you send $1.00 today for a year's subscription. Or you can get your own paper One Year Without Cost by inducing two of your neighbors to subscribe and sending their names with $2.00.

FREE SAMPLE COPIES, containing order blanks and full particulars, will be cheerfully furnished upon receipt of postal card request. Address Globe Printing Company, publishers.

Vice President Fairbanks is still busy with the Masonic goat. He started in a few months ago in the "blue lodge," and last night took the eighteenth degree en route to the shrine. There are 110 men filling such offices in the Western states, and their combined stipend reaches $250,000 a year. Secretary Hitchcock believes land office registers can do all the work of the receivers and will so recommend.

Some Seasonable Advice
It may be a piece of superfluous advice to urge people at this season to lay in a supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is almost sure to be needed before winter is over, and much more prompt and satisfactory results are obtained when taken as soon as a cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system, which can only be done by keeping the remedy at hand. This remedy is so widely known and so altogether good that no one should hesitate about buying it in preference to any other. It is for sale by C. W. Milhous.

A Peep Into the Past.

Rome, Oct. 26.—Prof. Giacomo Boni, who is directing the excavations of the Roman forum, has made important discoveries after a most careful stratigraphical exploration. The professor went through twenty-nine archaeological strata and reached a muddy plain where he found evidences that the plain was at one time inhabited. These evidences were a vegetable coal, pieces of pottery and several human skeletons, the latter in positions as to indicate violent death. The professor has arrived at the conclusion that the mud deposit is that of a marshy valley between the Palatine and Capitoline hills, the inhabitants of which fought there eight centuries before Christ.

Enviably Reputation Based Upon
Honest and Conscientious Public Service.

Indianapolis, Oct. 26.—Word was received here today that the Hon. Sidney W. Cantwell of Hartford City, speaker of the last Indiana house of representatives, cannot live the week out. While his death has been expected at any time owing to the nature of his illness, the word caused a great shock among his host of friends. Mr. Cantwell served two terms in the legislature, during which he made a very enviable reputation. He was regarded as a very honest and conscientious member. His election as speaker without any opposition was a testimonial to the high regard in which he was held by his associates. He made an excellent presiding officer, his poor health being the only drawback. What he lacked in vigor, however, was made up in honesty. He has made a brave fight for his life, and has recently had the service of noted specialists, but none of them have been able to relieve him.
